Three Points for Consideration.

During the past five years the VEGETINE has been steadily working itself into public favor, and those who were at first most incredulous in regard to its merits are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

There are three essential causes for those having such a horror of patent medicines, changing their opinion and leaning their influence toward the advancement of VEGETINE. 1st—It is an honestly-prepared medicine from barks, roots and herbs. 2d—It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without leaving any bad effects in the system. 3d—It presents honest vouchers in testimonials from honest, well-known citizens, whose signatures are a sufficient guarantee of their earnestness in the matter. Taking into consideration the vast quantity of medicine brought conspicuously before the public through the flaming advertisements in the newspaper columns, with no proof of merit or genuine vouchers of what it has done, we should be pardoned for manifesting a small degree of pride in presenting the following testimonial from Rev. J. S. Dickerson, D. D., the popular and ever-genial pastor of the South Baptist Church, Boston:

The Tired Body Sues for Sleep.

BOSTON, March 16, 1874.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your VEGETINE—even if it is a patent medicine—has been of great help to me when nothing else seemed to avail which I could safely use. Either excessive mental work or unusual care brings upon me a nervous exhaustion that desperately needs sleep, but as desperately defies it. Night after night the poor, tired body sues for sleep until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost fruitless chase after work. Now I have found that a little VEGETINE taken just before I retire gives me sweet and immediate sleep, and without any of the evil effects of the usual narcotics. I think two things would tend to make brain-workers sleep. 1st—A little less work. 2d—A little more VEGETINE. The prescription has helped me.

Now I have a particular horror of "patent medicine," but I have a greater horror of being afraid to tell the straight out truth. The VEGETINE has helped me, and I own it up. Yours &c.,

J. S. DICKERSON.

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be esteemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounce it invaluable:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 TRANSIT STREET,

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER.

Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative power of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., JAN. 1st, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,

E. S. BEST,

MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—From personal benefit received by its use, as well as from personal knowledge of those whose cures thereby have seemed almost miraculous, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend the VEGETINE for the complaints for which it is claimed to cure.

JAMES P. LUDLOW,

Late pastor Calvary Baptist Church, Sacramento, Cal.

TO PHYSICIANS AND INVALIDS.

The flexible, self-applying Electric Disks, Dr. Garratt's invention, make without care or trouble, "gentle and prolonged applications" of very fine primary currents. They prove sufficiently active and durable for this peculiar method.

While worn by night or day for cold rheumatic neuralgia, lameness, weakness, or chronic pains, the disk is sure to generate and apply its constant multipolar electric action. Each metal acts as element and pole. They are wired avelanche for deep polar inworking. As shown by the expert judges, and in practice, these disks excel all other attempts at this sort of appliance. Nothing like them. Large disk, $2 50. Children's $1. Other sizes. Also, our new Insulating Chest Protector, 75c., Children's, 50c. Sold by druggists and surgical instrument dealers. GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

THE BROOKLYN HOLOCAUST.

Funerals of the two Actors in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.

The funeral services over the remains of the actors, H. S. Hitchcock (stage name Murdock) and Claude Burroughs, took place at two o'clock this afternoon from the Church of the Transfiguration, "the little church around the corner." Rev. Dr. Houghton officiated. Thousands of people assembled outside the church notwithstanding the bitter cold, and the sacred edifice was crowded. The music was rendered by the ablest talent in the city, among them being Madame Eugenia Pappenheim, Miss Emma C. Thursby, Mrs. Philip Gulager, Mlle. Anna Drasdil, Mlle. Henrietta Carrade, Octavia Gomien, and O. Fritsch. Among the prominent actors and actresses present were Edwin and Mrs. Booth, Dion and Mrs. Boucicault, Charles Thorne, Lester Wallack, Tony Pastor, Miss Kate Claxton, Miss Fanny Morant, Tom Morris, representatives from the principal theatres of New York, more particularly the Union Square and Wallack's, and a large delegation from the Chestnut street theatre, Philadelphia.

The music which was exquisitely rendered comprised, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," Quis est homo, (Stabat Mater): "Angels ever bright and fair;" and "O rest in the Lord," (Elijah). The services lasted nearly three hours, and the remains were conveyed, prior to interment, to the Second street vaults in Brooklyn.

The Funerals in the City Churches.

In Brooklyn today, no matter in which direction the eye is turned, it seems to rest on a funeral cortege.

The calamity formed the principal subject of Brooklyn clergymen at morning and evening services today, and in accordance with arrangements by the city authorities memorial services were held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Park Theatre and Hooley's Opera House. All these places were thronged with people, and the latter place, where Rev. Henry Ward Beecher delivered an address, was filled in ten minutes after the doors were opened.

Mayor Schroeder presided at the Academy of Music and made a short address, speaking principally of the erection of a monument over the plat where the victims of the disaster were buried.

Nearly all the Brooklyn ministers and many of the clergymen in New York alluded to the terrible calamity in their sermons today, and in Mr. Beecher's church and that of Rev. Dr. Talmage collections were taken up in behalf of the suffering and bereaved families.

INTERMENT OF THE UNKNOWN DEAD.

Solemn Rites At Greenwood Cemetery.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.

The earth has closed over all that remained of most of those who perished last Tuesday evening by the burning of the Brooklyn theatre. The programme, arranged by the committee of aldermen and supervisors, headed by Mayor Schroeder, of the City of Churches, for the burial of the unidentified dead, was carried out this afternoon in most of its essential features, and the result was a funeral procession and service which have seldom been equalled in this country, so far as the harrowing nature of the causes giving rise to them is concerned. Amid the tolling of bells, the display of flags at half mast, public buildings hung with black, stores closed, business suspended, and streets filled with a deeply agitated throng, a line of hearses bearing one hundred corpses, moved toward Greenwood Cemetery, where the last solemnly thrilling rites were performed.

The City Hall.

This morning all the bodies in the Morgue were removed to the temporary deadhouse in the old market, where there were in all 100 of the charred corpses.

A Hundred Pine Coffins, neatly stained, and with German silver mounting, were brought in and placed upon the floor, and into them the unidentified and destitute dead were placed.

Fifty six Hearses and Undertakers' Wagons drew up at the entrance on Adams street, and the remains were lifted in. There were two coffins each in a number of the vehicles.

The procession was formed of the band of 23d regiment, clergy, the long line of hearses, the military and friends of the deceased. The city officials brought up the rear and after them tumbled in a sea of idle people who fought the bitter wind, and trudged all the way to the cemetery gates.

There was a Tremendous Crowd assembled at Greenwood. As the cortege passed through the gates the bell in the tower tolled mournfully. On either side, along the pathways on the hill sides and invading private plots, the people were there by hundreds and by thousands. About 150 yards from the entrance of the cemetery, a trench had been prepared for the reception of the dead. The site being on the slope of the hill, and completely exposed, the cold was almost insufferable, but still the people held their places.

There was an impressive sadness, mingled with solemnity, in the scene. Hundreds of people wept, the tears freezing on their cheeks as they fell. After the impressive services the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Joseph Odell. Previous to the dismissal of the assemblage, the Saengerbund Maennerchor and other societies, numbering eighty members, joined in singing "Sag was zagest Du," and "Veber Den Wiffeln ist ruh," two German funeral dirges. The translation of the first is, "Say, what troubles thee?" and of the other, "Above the tree tops is rest." The effect was grand.

The Story about Tweed's Papers Denied.

A special to the New York Times from Washington says the attention of Attorney General Taft being called to the story that Tweed's papers found in his trunk brought home on the Franklin had been sent to Washington for examination, replied that he had not received the papers. He was asked if he had any information to lead him to expect the papers to be sent here, and he said he had not.

The Holiday Recess.

A Herald Washington special says it is the impression that Congress will adjourn Friday, the 15th, until the second Monday in January. The committees will meantime pursue their labors at the south and on the appropriation bills.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Hampton's Peace Policy.—Terrorism and Excitement.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 10.

A gentleman just in from the up country says:—

On Monday night, 4th inst., two white men are said to have been fired on from ambush while going home from Abbeville court house to Loundesville. One was killed and the other wounded. The latter asserted that negroes fired the shots. The alarm was at once given to the rifle clubs and mounted men by hundreds scouring the country. One batch of ten colored men were arrested and sent in charge of constables to Abbeville court house. While on their way they were taken from the officers and shot to death by the roadside. Another lot of thirteen were taken to Anderson court house. These were taken violently ill after they arrived. One died almost immediately, and three others are not expected to live from the effects of poison. Up to Friday last, thirty six colored men had been arrested and the work was still going on. Rumors of the shooting of many more colored men are circulating. Many have fled and the greatest terror prevails. I have no doubt that the ambush and the conspiracy are thin pretences for this massacre, as was the parade of the negro militia company on the fourth of July for that of Hamburg. It is a part of the Wade Hampton and peace programme here, which is the counterpart of Tilden and reform with you.

A Partial Confirmation from a Democratic source.

It is reported here tonight that the ten negroes who murdered a white man, named Allen, and wounded another named Baker, at Loundesville, Abbeville county, and who were discovered to be engaged in a plot to murder the whites, were taken from the sheriff's posse, and lynched by the Georgians. Thirteen negroes were arrested on warrants issued by a trial justice, and, owing to threats of lynching, were sent under a strong guard to the jail at Anderson, in the adjoining country, for safe keeping. It is supposed, while en route, they were seized by Georgians, who came across the Savannah river, and summarily dealt with them. There are no details. The excitement is great.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT ON THE NEW YORK CENTRAL.

A St. Louis Express Train Runs Into a Freight Train.

BUFFALO, Dec. 10.

Saturday evening's St. Louis express, on the New York Central Railroad, due to leave here at 8.40 P. M., was detained by the storm and the lateness of the Lake Shore train till 11.50 P. M. When near Looneyville about sixteen miles from this city, it ran into a freight train which was stuck in the snow.

The two engines drawing the express, and the freight engine were wrecked, and the two express cars, the through Chicago safe and contents, the Buffalo safe and contents were burned and partly destroyed. Benj. Woodworth, of Utica, N. Y., ex-messenger, aged 50 years. was burned to death. He leaves a wife and child. George W. Douglass, engineer, and James Vaughan, fireman on the first engine of the passenger train, were seriously, but it is thought not fatally, injured. The former was badly bruised.

A switchman was sent forward to flag the train; but taking refuge from the severe storm in a caboose lying by the side of the track, allowed the train to pass by him. None of the passengers were injured.

Damage in and Around New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 10.

During the gale of Saturday, the roof of a turret on the new Yale College Chapel was blown off and carried seventy-five feet, knocking off a finial in its progress; damage about $300. A brick chimney at the jail, twenty-five feet high, was blown down. Schooner J. H. Yeomans, coal laden, was driven across the harbor to the East Haven shore, when she went down. The captain and crew escaped.

The Gale in the Chesapeake.—Three Men Perish.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10.

Arrivals from below report the gale on the Chesapeake yesterday the most severe for years and the cold intense. A number of oyster vessels are reported ashore at various points down the bay. Oyster pungee Ann Eliza was drifted on Little Hawkins point, and filled with water. Capt. John Oliver and two of the crew, Martin Bayley and Jacob Lover, died from freezing, and the remainder of the crew, four, were badly frozen and taken to the hospital in this city.

LONDON, Dec. 11.

Reports are renewed that the Turks are about to enter Roumania. The Standard's Berlin dispatch reports that the Turks have declared at Bucharest that they are obliged to occupy Roumanian territory.

The French Ministerial Deadlock.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says the ministerial crisis is beginning seriously to affect trade. Up to midnight, Sunday, the left have refused to let M. Dufaure have a portfolio. The difficulties do not appear to have been cleared away by Dufaure's conference with Simon. There is no chance of the list of a new ministry appearing in Monday's official journal.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Democratic Trouble Over the Oregon Case.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.

The democrats are by no means pleased with Mr. Patrick Cronin's own explanation of how he organized his electoral college in Oregon. It confirms them in the truth of the statement made here, that he had not proceeded according to orders, and Gov. Grover is censured for selecting so stupid a tool. His proposition which he gravely says he made to the two republican electors, was to proceed to an organization and voting before he produced their certificates under promise to attach them to their final report, is so utterly astonishing as to leave the Democrats without a word for the defence of this idiot. They also admit another

Fatal Blunder on Cronin's Part.

He, himself, had been appointed by the governor, upon the theory that there had been no election of a republican to that place, and yet he, Cronin, proceeded to declare vacancies where the governor had certified to the legal election of two other persons, and placed the certificates of their election in Cronin's hands.

REMINISCENCES OF CUSTER.

HIS GREAT CHARGE ON GENERAL ROSSER—THE WOODSTOCK RACES.

Sheldon & Co. have in press a "Life of General Custer," written by Captain Fred Whittaker, which contains many interesting sketches of his career in the war of the rebellion. One of his most famous charges, familiarly known as the Woodstock races, is thus described by Captain Whittaker, who was an eye-witness:

And now occurred one of those little incidents that stamp the innate romance of Custer's character on his biography, like the echo of his famous last speech at the Academy. "Let's have a fair fight, boys." Here it was, fair and square and no favor, perhaps the first in the war. No infantry to bother the horse, numbers about equal, his first fight as a division commander, and Rosser in sight. Out rode Custer from his staff, far in advance of the line, his glittering figure in plain view of both armies. Sweeping off his broad sombrero, he threw it down to his knee in a profound salute to his honorable foe. It was like the action of a knight in the lists. A fair fight and no malice. On the ridge before him he had seen Rosser, his classmate at the academy, with whom he had held many a wordy contest in days of old, and who had been his great rival at "the Point." Rosser had but just come to the valley, and was already hailed as its savior. He saw Custer, and turned to his staff, pointing him out. "You see that officer down there," said he. "That's General Custer the Yanks are so proud of, and I intend to give him the best whipping today that he ever got. See if I don't."

And he smiled triumphantly as he looked around at his gallant Southern cavaliers.

Then Custer lifted the hat and clapped it on his head, turned to his line of men, and the next moment the Third division was sweeping on at a trot, the flaming scarlet necktie and bright curls of Custer before all, followed by his staff, all with swords out. Now the pace quickens. Rosser's and Lomax's guns open furiously at shorter range, and the rattling of volleys rolls along the Confederate line. The bullets go pattering around, whistling overhead, knocking up the dirt, killing or wounding a few horses and men, but doing surprisingly little damage all things considered. The trot has become a gallop, and, as the pattering of bullets becomes heavier, a wild savage yell breaks from every throat in that long wave of cavalry, and away they go, the lines lost in confused clumps of horsemen, with waving sabres, the horses crazy with excitement, leaping half out of their skins as they race for the confederate batteries and lines of cavalry.

Custer's attack, arranged in full sight of Rosser, yet proved triumphantly successful. One brigade to the front, another to the right, the third to the left, they swept on at a charge not heeding the fire, curled around Rosser's flanks in a moment, and before he could tell what had happened, had him inclosed in a circle of charging horse. Vain all his efforts when his flanks were threatened. Had the attack been made on foot he might have had time to think: but the sudden and impetus rush of a whole division completely demoralized the Confederates. Despite Rosser's efforts, away they went into the wildest of confusion, driven back at a gallop for nearly two miles.

GEN. CUSTER'S PROMOTION.

Gen. Custer was promoted at one bound from a lieutenant of cavalry to be a brigadier-general. At the time that it occurred it was entirely unexpected. Custer had, however, felt from the beginning of his career a full conviction that he would win distinction in the war. In his open and frank way he had often spoken of it to his brother officers, at their long firelight talks. He had received a good deal of ridicule on this point from his comrades. At the battle of Aldie, Lieutenant Custer may be said to have almost alone turned defeat into one of our most brilliant cavalry victories. His biographer says:

One evening, eleven days after Aldie, when Custer returned to headquarters, after a long ride, in which he had been posting the pickets of the entire corps for the night, he was greeted in the large tent, where the staff was wont to gather at night, by the salutations, "Hello, general!" "How are you general?" "Gentlemen, General Custer!" "Why, general, I congratulate you!" "You're looking well, general!" The greetings came from all quarters of the tent, where staff officers were lounging, smoking, chatting, laughing, telling stories. They impressed Custer as being merely a continuation of the usual ill natured banter on the subject of his aspirations, and, further, as being carried a little too far. However, he had always been noted for his remarkable control over a hot and violent temper, and he was not going to allow his comrades to laugh him out of it on this occasion. Still, it was with some bitterness that he answered, "You may laugh, boys. Laugh as long as you please, but I will be a general yet, for all your chaff. You see if I don't, that's all." He was greeted by a universal shout of laughter in answer. It seemed as if his tormentors were determined to irritate him into an explosion; and they nearly succeeded; for his blue eyes began to flash, and he looked around as if seeking some one on whom to fix a quarrel. His old friend Yates (afterwards brevet lieutenant colonel, and captain in the Seventh United States cavalry, and one of the little band of heroes who fell with Custer) whom he had been himself the means of putting on Pleasonton's staff, came to his relief with a few words:

"Look on the table, old fellow. They're not chaffing." He pointed to the table in the tent, and there in the midst lay a large official envelope, and on it was written, Brigadier-General George A. Custer, United States Volunteers.".

The reaction was instantaneous, and the young fellow was completely overcome. A moment later and all his old comrades were gathered around him in real earnest congratulating and shaking hands, while Custer, too much overpowered to speak, could only smile faintly, turn very pale, find his eyes full of tears, and sink down in a chair feeling very much as if he was going to make a fool of himself and cry. However, he regained his self-control in a few moments, and was able to thank his comrades, who were really in earnest this time, and after awhile was permitted to read the orders which accompanied his commission, and which directed him to report to General Pleasanton for instructions.

Of the interview between Pleasanton and himself it is unnecessary to speak. It was marked on the one side by great kindness and good sense. A few months later Custer writes home about Pleasanton, "He has been more like a father to me than a general," and this was indeed the truth. There must, however, have been something peculiarly magnetic about Custer to have attracted to himself as he did the enthusiastic affections of three men of such very different characters as his three successive commanders. McClellan, the polished, scientific soldier, kind-hearted to a fault, slow, methodical and cautious; Pleasonton, acrid, sarcastic, exacting, an excellent cavalry chief, but generally failing to attract any affection from his subordinates, a martinet in his discipline: Sheridan, fiery, impetuous, untiring, remorseless in the amount of work he exacted from his troops; all these three men loved, admired and trusted him entirely, and it was nothing but his transcendent ability which forced them to do so.

CUSTER'S FIRST CHARGE WITH HIS BRIGADE.

When the boy lieutenant was suddenly promoted to be a brigadier-general, and put in charge of the Michigan brigade, there was much fault finding. They did not want a mere boy to lead them. They did not believe he would fight. It was but a few days before they were called upon to make the first charge, which General Custer's biographer thus describes:

The charge of the First Michigan at Gettysburg is described by an eye-witness as something magnificent, and yet the one thing that gave it weight is not mentioned in Custer's report. We have seen how the previous day, the general had charged at the head of a single company, solely for the purpose of encouraging his men and to win their respect and affection. At Gettysburg he completed his victory over the brigade by the manner in which he led the second charge, in which he participated with his men. When that single regiment, in column of squadrons, moved forward to the attack, every man knew that it was the last reserve, and had started on an almost hopeless task. Nothing but the spectacle of the young general at their head, sharing their dangers, could have inspired them to such an effort, and it was the magnificent spectacle of his gallant and knightly figure, far in the van, that nerved every arm in that column. Hating him at Hanover, they began to respect him at Hunterstown; after Gettysburg, they adored him. The result of this attack was that Hampton's cavalry was driven back, the infantry ordered up to support it, the whole ammunition train of Lee threatened, and much of the vigor of the assault on the Union right paralyzed. Meanwhile Buford, on the other flank of the army, had prevented an equally dangerous turning movement in that direction, and the battle of Gettysburg had been won.

Fall Campaign of 1876.

TO ALL who wish to go through the exciting presidential election with their good reputation unspotted, I will say that the best and cheapest way is to come direct to my carriage depot and purchase a good serviceable carriage with which you can rush over and by all political orators who are trying to make the dear people think just now that the salvation of our great country depends upon the people following their advice instead of each voter thinking and acting for himself. If each voter will follow this advice our country is safe.

I offer to sell cheap the following

CARRIAGES:

9 top buggies all in good order and newly painted.
4 half top barouches.
1 Brownell carryall; second-hand, in good order.
1 coupe or storm carryall, cheap.
2 new phaeton buggies.
6 open wagons cheap.
1 new carryall.
1 new express wagon.
1 new open business wagon cheap.
4 double express wagons.
1 two horse extension carryall.
2 nice dog carts.
3 two horse sleighs, (better buy now,) and several others.

Thanking my friends for their very liberal patronage during the past. By their kindness I have been able to dispose of over forty different carriages—a very good sale for Newport. I still hope by fair dealing to merit a continuance of their favors.

HOUSE PAINTING.

Now is the time to make arrangements for fall and winter house painting, and as I don't propose to call and annoy people at their residences by asking them for work and promising to do more work and better work than my brother painters can do for the same money; but, if people wanting anything done in the painting line from glazing a light of glass to painting a hotel, will call on me or drop a note to box 24, I will do the utmost to please, and will warrant all work entrusted to my care, to be done as agreed and at the time specified. My reference is the parties whom I have worked for, for the past ten years or more. Respectfully,

THE DAY.

Gold closed Saturday at 107¼.

There were several railroad accidents Saturday.

Heavy winds and severe cold are reported all along the coast. Considerable damage has been done.

The action of acting Vice President Ferry in ruling out the joint twenty second rule is highly commended in Washington.

The theatres of Boston are all provided with standpipes and lines of hose which can be brought into use at a moment's notice.

Senator Boutwell declines to serve on the sub-committee of the committee on privileges and elections appointed yesterday to go to Louisiana.

The Boston Post says "Wade Hampton is a mighty pillar of law and priest of patriotism. He is one of the grandest figures of the age." It may be so.

A fire in Burlington, N. J., yesterday morning destroyed twenty-four houses, rendering fifty families homeless. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

The political situation in France is considered very serious. The case is now narrowed down to a direct conflict between President MacMahon and the Left.

The correspondents say that Senator Burnside of Rhode Island, who has a very bald head, now wears a gray chinchilla worsted skull cap while he is in the Senate Chamber.

According to the latest Mexican advices the revolutionist Iglesias is in almost complete possession of Mexico. President Lerdo and his cabinet have been captured and the secretary of war shot.

The Sioux Indian commission, now in Washington completing their report, will ask an appropriation to carry out the terms of the treaty regarding the removal of the Sioux to Indian territory.

Rumor says Fernando Wood has a petition to present to the house for an inquiry into the legality of the means by which Tweed was taken from Spain, the United States having no extradition with that country.

President Grant justifies the exclusion of the Edgefield and Laurens delegates on the ground that Georgians had frequently voted in those counties casting more votes for the democrats than there were voters in the counties.

A private letter to a Treasury official from a friend in England mentions several transactions in Confederate bonds which have occurred in London since the Presidential election. The prices obtained were between three and four cents.

It is announced that the details of the attempt to buy up a Hayes elector in South Carolina will be given to the public in a few days, and it is hinted that a New York agent who was there and the president of a railroad are implicated.

It is believed that the reports from democratic sources that the president is becoming luke-warm in his republicanism will have the reverse effect from what was intended, as they are influencing him to take a more decided stand than ever.

It is reported that the general committee of the House democrats will issue soon an address to the people. A member of the committee says that if the republicans will only allow that there was no intimidation or fraud in Louisiana and Florida, and that the verdict of those returning boards was not the verdict of the people, all will be well.

Sub-committees of the Senate committee on elections have been sent to Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina, to investigate. They are as follows:—

For Louisiana—Messrs. Howe, Wadleigh, McMillan, Boutwell, Saulsbury and McDonald.

For Florida—Messrs. Mitchell, Teller and Cooper.

For South Carolina—Messrs. Cameron of Wisconsin, Christiancy and Merrimon.

All questions of law in regard to the elections in Oregon, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, and concerning the eligibility of presidential electors in all the states, were referred to Senators Morton, Logan and Kernan as a sub-committee, to report to the full committee at a future meeting, until which time all further action touching the four states just named is deferred.

The president has been strongly urged to send a special message to congress on the political issues of the day, but has not yet signified what he will do about it. He is said to have remarked that if the democrats believed that he intended to keep quiet in consequence of threats of impeachment, they would find before the present session is very far advanced, that they have been laboring under a great delusion. The president says he would have something to say, especially in answer to the house resolutions, calling for information about the use of troops, which would not be very satisfactory reading to the democratic leaders.

THE STORM.

MARINE ITEMS.—CONDITION OF THE STREETS.—MUCH CREDIT DUE TO MR. BASHFORD OF THE TORPEDO STATION.—THE STEAMERS.—MINOR ITEMS.

The wind blew a gale all day Saturday and Sunday and the thermometer was scarcely above 10 degrees. There were about sixty vessels in the harbor, some of which dragged their anchors, but none, so far as we can learn, were seriously injured. The schooner Kendrick Fish, Rider, master, from Bangor, dragged ashore at Finch, Enos & Co.'s wharf. The schooner Julia, of this port, dragged and cut the chain of the schooner Albert Crandall, also of this port, which went ashore near Cottrell's shipyard. The schooner Harriet and Rebecca, from Providence for Newark, N. J., parted chain and dragged ashore at Commercial wharf, driving into the dock occupied by the boats of the American Steamboat Company. She was promptly secured and so escaped damage.

Saturday afternoon the three masted schooner Eva I. Smith, Saunders, master, from Providence for New York, went ashore near the Blue Rocks in the upper harbor and at low water one could step aboard of her without wetting his feet. She is leaking some but will probably be hauled off today. Two New York pilot boats the Peck and the E. F. Williams, were obliged to make a harbor here. Some of the crew of the Peck were ashore on Saturday and late in the day made several unsuccessful attempts to board their vessel, but the rough weather obliged them to desist, after getting wet through and running the risk of drowning. Their situation was seen by Andrew J. Bashford of the torpedo station who secured the services of the torpedo launch and put them on board the pilot boat.

The snow and slush of Saturday froze on the sidewalks, making pedestrianism dangerous. In consequence of this fact but few people were out. Saturday evening the streets were almost entirely deserted at 8 o'clock.

It was utterly impossible for the Eolus to make her 5.30 trip Saturday night, and she was forced to wait until 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The conductor of the Wickford road was notified, that he might tell the passengers from New York. When the steamer arrived at Wickford it was four hours in making a landing owing to the gale blowing the water out of the harbor so she was obliged to wait for the tide. She reached here again yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock bringing ten passengers who had waited at the hotel in Wickford.

The Block Island mail packet came through all right on Saturday.

The Bristol left New York on time Saturday night but had a rough time getting through the sound. She put into New London to wait a lull in the storm, and have her rudder bar which had been broken, repaired. She arrived here yesterday afternoon. According to the original programme the Newport takes her place tonight for the Winter. The Bristol is not disabled.

The Old Colony left Fall River yesterday morning and arrived there at about one o'clock in the afternoon remaining here until evening, when upon arrival of the Bristol she left for New York. She arrived in New York at 6.30 this morning.

Minor damages are reported to fences, trees, etc. The wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company were seriously disarranged and no messages could be sent. The trouble was somewhere between this city and Fall River.

The various steamers were forced to keep up steam all day yesterday to keep the water in the boilers from freezing.

A small vessel, kept off Hog Island, opposite Bristol Ferry by the Old Colony Steambont Company to show a light for the guidance of the boats, broke from her three anchors Saturday afternoon and went ashore on Hog Neck in Mount Hope Bay where she now lies.

The steamer Jamestown made a trip yesterday morning, one at noon and another at night.

TIVERTON.

The Good Templars, at their regular weekly meeting, installed the officers of Pocasset Lodge, No. 31, for the present quarter: W. C. T.—Cyrus W. Tripp; W. V. T.—Carrie A. Potter; W. R. Sec.—Frank L. Almy; W. A. Sec.—Porcilla Wilcox; W. F. Sec.—Wm. Cory; W. Treas.—Peleg Almy; W. Chap.—Rev. A. T. Clarke; W. M.—Peleg Almy; W. D. M.—J. Charles Cook; W. I. G.—Marietta W. Clarke; W. O. G.—Wm. Cory; W. R. H. S.—Abby N. Cory; W. L. H. S.—Obacil Brown; P. W. C. T.—Almon T. Clarke: Lodge Deputy—Preserved Tripp.

The Good Templars own a very nice hall, erected for their special use. It will seat 150 and cost a little more than $800. It is so conveniently located that it is frequently let for other purposes. It is the only hall in the state owned exclusively by the I. O. of G. T.

Miss Powell, daughter of the artist, was married, on the 17th of October, to Commander George Walter Lloyd of Cowesby Hall, Yorkshire, England. The wedding took place at the Church of St. Pancras, London, and was conducted in the old English style. The bride wore a rich white corded silk, en traine, and a tulle veil, which was fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms and enveloped her form. The bridesmaids were two Miss Lloyds, nieces of the groom. After the ceremony a very grand breakfast was given at the home of the groom's mother, and the newly wedded couple left for Oxford. They will spend the winter in Rome, where Mrs. Lloyd will pursue the study of art, in which she has won much praise.

The Intercollegiate Rowing Association has come out on a broad and liberal basis. The members are close communionists no longer, and until they decide otherwise any college can participate in future regattas, though not represented in the association. Even Harvard and Yale will not be excluded, if at any time they think themselves strong enough to make a reasonably good record.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The storm signal has been up for two days.

—The new city clerk has entered upon his duties.

—Capt. Hammond arrived home from his pursuit of Mr. Marsh yesterday.

—The sleighing is "fair to middling" for light sleighs but heavy ones find it hard travelling.

—The house building for Hon. George H. Pendleton at Ochre Point is ready for the painters. Stafford & Lawton are to do the work.

—The tide was so low in the harbor yesterday morning that it was possible to walk "dry shod" between several of the wharves which has not been the case before for many years.

—The fair of the Central Baptist Church opens this afternoon at the Aquidneck House. The dining room has been gaily decorated with flags and presents an attractive appearance. The display of fancy articles is fine and the fair gives promise of success. The entrance to the rooms is on Pelham street.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—The inclemency of the weather yesterday had its effect on the attendance at the churches. It was impossible in most of the churches to heat the house enough for comfort.—At Zion Church in the morning the rector dismissed the congregation with the benediction omitting the service. The usual evening service was held.—The Thames-street M. E. Church held services in the chapel.—At Emmanuel Church the ordinance of baptism was administered to three infants and one adult.

NEWPORT GYMNASIUM.—Mr. Joseph Endres of Providence, the new gymnastic teacher, led two classes at the gymnasium, last Friday, to the great satisfaction of all concerned. He is a capital gymnast, and very methodical and efficient in his teaching. He is to come from Providence every Wednesday, and will give lessons at 5 and 8 P. M., which will be open without extra charge to subscribers to the gymnasium. As the whole subscription is but $5, this is very moderate. Classes will also meet for practice on Monday and Saturday afternoons.

LETTER FROM MR. MARSH.—A letter was received Saturday morning from Mr. Marsh written at Harrisburg, Pa., in which he gives as the reasons for leaving town so abruptly that for a long time he had been living beyond his means, that he found he was unable to make good the moneys in his hands belonging to the city and was unwilling to lay the condition of matters before his friends. He says that when he left town he had no plans for the future. He advises his wife to sell his property on Washington square, which ought to bring considerable more than the mortgage of $4000, and apply the proceeds to the payment of his debts. He gives no clue to his future movements but says that he shall locate somewhere and devote himself to the support of his family and the entire payment of any deficiencies that remain. He has a kind word for each of his children.

NEW SHOREHAM.

The fishing about the island has been pretty good for some time past. A large quantity of cod has been taken.

Mr. Deloron A. Mitchell is building a house upon the high land at the east side of the island.

The First Baptist Church has had two stereopticon entertainments the past week, the proceeds of which were for the benefit of the Sunday school.

The Rev. S. T. Livermore's address on the condition of the island a hundred years ago ought to be printed as it contains much valuable information.

PORTSMOUTH.

At the last meeting of the Ladies' Social connected with the Christian Church the following named officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President—Mrs. Cynthia Maria Burdick.
Vice President—Mrs. Ruth H. Barden.
Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Emma Slocum.
Assistant Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Lucinda Coggeshall.
Managers—Mrs. Harriet Rogers, Mrs. Eliza Maria Manchester, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Mrs. Patience White, Mrs. Lydia W. Manchester, Miss Mary B. Coggeshall.

The treasurer reported a balance in the treasury of ninety two dollars.

CITY COUNCIL.

RESOLUTION IN REGARD TO MR. MARSH.—VIEWS OF THE COUNCIL.—COMMUNICATION FROM THE CITY SOLICITOR.—ELECTION OF A NEW CITY CLERK.

A special meeting of the city council was held Saturday evening. The two boards met in their respective halls, when after the reading of the records a resolution was presented and read declaring the office of city clerk vacant. On motion of Alderman Langley, the two branches went into joint convention to consider this and other matters relating to the office of city clerk.

In joint convention His Honor Mayor Bedlow presented the following resolution for the consideration of the council.

Resolved, that Benjamin Marsh 2d., he having abandoned this office of city clerk of this city, be and hereby is removed from his said office which is hereby made and declared vacant.

Alderman Langley objected to the passage of the resolution on the ground that its terms were harsh and that no evidence exists that Mr. Marsh is a defaulter and has legally vacated the office.

Councilman Franklin took the same view. He said there had been no investigation of the affairs of Mr. Marsh and the council could not be prepared for the action proposed.

Alderman Stoddard opposed the passage of the resolution. He referred to the long and faithful service of Mr. Marsh, and said there was no evidence that there is a defalcation or fraud on the part of Mr. Marsh. He thought there should be a committee of investigation and if possible, a city clerk pro tem. appointed. He thought the council were not prepared for action tonight.

The opinion of the city solicitor was called for. Mr. Peckham was decidedly of the opinion that the proposed action or something like it was necessary for the safety of the city.

Councilman Cranston believed the time had come when action should be taken. He thought it necessary to elect now, and that a committee of investigation be appointed to examine the books and papers.

Mr. Franklin expressed a wish, if a clerk was to be chosen to change the method of compensation. The city solicitor advised that no change could be made during the year, under the provisions of the charter.

It was proposed to pass a resolution forbidding the clerk to be chosen, if any, from engaging in any other business or holding any other office.

Mr. Langley urged again the propriety of leaving the office as it is, and again expressed his wish for the appointment of a city clerk pro tem.

President Franklin took the same view, but thought it necessary, under advice of the solicitor, to elect tonight. Still he thought the council was not ready to act. Every member had a candidate and there was danger of getting a black sheep.

Alderman Langley, as chairman of the finance committee, now stated that they had made an examination, and gave a statement of facts as the committee found them. They were the same as given in the News of Saturday.

Alderman Denniston thought the office of city clerk actually vacant, and there should be a thorough investigation. He held that the matters of the office had been loosely guarded for a long time, and that the incumbent should be held hereafter to strict accountability.

The discussion being over the two boards separated for action.

In the board of aldermen the matter was first taken up. Mr. Deblois opposed the passage of the resolution unless some reason was given. It is not made to appear that Mr. Marsh has done anything wrong. He is simply out of town. No committee has reported that the clerk has done wrong, and he did not see how the council could remove him from the office.

The City Solicitor stated that the council had authority to remove the clerk and that there were facts sufficient to make the action legal.

Mr. Langley said it was very unpleasant, but he did not see, on the whole, how he could do otherwise than vote for the resolution, and as matters stood he should do so.

Mr. Stoddard was very reluctant to take action but felt that as at present advised he must do so. He would prefer to have a clerk chosen pro tem. if that had been legal. If it cannot be done then the other course must be pursued.

Mr. Langley moved the passage of the resolution. The vote stood

Ayes.—Stoddard, Langley, Brown, Deblois and Denman, 5. Unanimous.

A resolution was then presented and passed, limiting the receipts of the clerk to be elected to the legal fees, and providing that he should devote himself exclusively to the duties of the office and give attention to no other business. The amount of bond to be given by the incumbent was fixed at $2000.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on finance be and they are hereby instructed to examine the books and papers, affairs and finances of Benjamin Marsh 2d, late city clerk of this city, so far as the same concern the city and report the result of such investigation to the city council as soon as may be.

In the common council the resolution declaring the office vacant was promptly considered as it came from the board of aldermen.

The roll was called and the vote stood Ayes,—Messrs. Stoddard, Weaver, Bull, Case, Barker, Sherman, Smith, Cranston, Franklin. Noes, none.

In considering the resolution providing for an investigation, Mr. Cranston thought a special committee should be chosen as it was asking too much of the finance committee. Mr. Bull took the same view and it was voted to allow the committee to employ a clerk or other assistants.

A communication from the city solicitor was presented and read stating that he had served a notice on the banks in which Mr. Marsh has deposits, claiming such money as belonging to the city. The action of that officer was unanimously approved by both boards.

The two boards then went into joint convention for the election of city clerk.

Mayor Bedlow stated the object of the meeting.

Alderman Langley presented a communication from T. A Spencer asking the appointment to the office. Similar requests were presented and read from Wm. S. Brownell and Charles Cottrell.

Alderman Stoddard nominated Charles B. Marsh. President Franklin nominated Wm. G. Stevens.

Mr. Bull moved that an informal ballot be taken which was done with the following result:

C. B. Marsh	6
W. G. Stevens	7
W. S. Brownell	1
C. Cottrell	1

A sharp discussion then took place between Alderman Stoddard and Councilman Cranston as to the propriety of electing Mr. Marsh to a position which had been filled by his father and from which he had just been removed. Mr. Cranston thought well of the young gentleman proposed, but felt that while his father's books and papers were under investigation they should not thus be placed in the custody of the son.

On the first formal vote the ballot stood:

Charles B. Marsh	8
A. P. Baker	2
W. G. Stevens	5

On the announcement being made the lobby broke forth in applause. A motion to make the vote unanimous was put but not one or two negative votes.

The only other business transacted was the approval of two bills which were ordered paid. One being for salary of the harbor master three months $125; and the other the salary of Mr. Finniger for the same time as inspector of kerosene, $75.

A CURIOUS CALCULATION.

A rapid penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his quill through the space of a rod—sixteen feet and a half. In forty minutes his pen travels a furlong; and in five hours and a third, a mile. We make on an average, sixteen curves or turns of the pen in writing each word. Writing thirty words in a minute, we must take four hundred and eighty-eight to each second; in an hour, twenty-eight thousand eight hundred; in a day of only five hours, one hundred and forty-four thousand; in a year of three hundred days, forty-three millions two hundred thousand. The man who made a million strokes with a pen in a month was not at all remarkable. Many men make four million. Here we have, in the aggregate, a mark three hundred miles long, to be traced on paper by each writer in a year. In making each letter of the ordinary alphabet, we must make from three to seven strokes of the pen—on an average, three and a half to four.

The Missionary Herald says: It is one of the peculiar attractions of the missionary work that its one great object is to present Christ alone, as the Saviour, to perishing souls. It is not about Christ, not about denominational questions, not about the peculiarities of this or that form or organization or formal service, but Christ alone. It is the "old, old story," that gives Miss Hillis so hearty a welcome in the villages of Ceylon; that wins love and admiration for the Misses Ely among the women of Bitlis, in Eastern Turkey; and that has brought so many women into the churches of Sanda and Hiogo, in Japan, through the efforts of Misses Dudley and Talcott. We believe this is as true in Christian as in heathen lands: if Christ was preached and lived more and better the power of Christianity would be wonderfully increased.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

INVIGORATE, AND BE HEALTHY.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

FALSE IMPRESSIONS.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure dyspepsia and liver complaint in all its forms, such as sour stomach, costiveness, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, low spirits, &c., &c. Out of 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by James H. Taylor.

What other Medicines have failed to do, HUNT'S REMEDY surely does. Restoring to health those afflicted with Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Glandular Complaints, Diabetes, and Gravel, HUNT'S REMEDY cures Incontinence, Retention of Urine, Excesses, Intemperance and Loss of Appetite. HUNT'S REMEDY is the best medicine ever discovered for the cure of these Diseases.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS AND COLDS.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, &C.

The tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF LIVER COMPLAINT, &C.

These pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver, without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood; in fact creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as above explained, will cure every case of consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.

Is acknowledged by competent judges in the following particulars:

1. It is constructed on the soundest mechanical principles.
2. It is made with the best material by the best workmen.
3. Its wearing surface is more evenly distributed than that of other shuttle machines.
4. It has no harsh jarring motions.
5. It runs much lighter, stiller, and with less wear than other shuttle machines.
6. There is less wear on the needle bar and cam than in other machines.
7. Less motion is given to the shaft, carrying the needle bar and feed than in other machines.
8. The feed is positive, silent and automatic.
9. The length of the stitch is more easily regulated.
10. The needle is more easily threaded. There are no holes for the thread to pass through, but the eye of the needle.
11. There is no wear or strain on the thread to set it firmly in the cloth.
12. It has no objectional levers, no heavy rotary cams, no noisy cog wheels, which are always getting out of order or breaking.
13. It is so constructed that it can run twice the speed, do double the work and last twice as long as other shuttle machines.

FASHIONABLE WOMEN.

Fashion kills more women than toil and sorrow. Obedience to fashion is a greater transgression of the laws of woman's nature—a greater injury to her physical and mental constitution—than poverty and neglect. The slave woman at her task will live and grow old, and will see two or three generations of her mistress fade and pass away. The washerwoman, with scarce a ray of hope to cheer her in her toil, will live to see her fashionable sisters die all around her. The kitchen-maid is hearty and strong when her lady has to be nursed like a sick baby. It is a sad truth that the fashion-pampered women are almost worthless for all the ends of human life. They have but little force of character. They have loss power of moral will, and we might say, quite as little of physical energy. They live for no great purpose in life; they accomplish no worthy ends. They are only doll-forms in the hands of milliners and servants, to be dressed and fed to order. They dress nobody and they save nobody. They write no books; they set no rich example of virtue and of womanly life. If they rear children, servants and nurses do all save to conceive and give them birth. And when reared what are they? What do they amount to but weak scions of the old stock? Who ever heard of a fashionable woman's child exhibiting any virtue or power of mind for which it became eminent? Read the biographies of our great and good men and women. Not one of them had a fashionable mother. They nearly all sprang up from strong-minded women, who had as little to do with fashion as with the changing clouds.

The First Baptist Church in Charlestown, Mass., constituted in 1801 with 11 members, now numbers 655 members, having received during the last three years 281 by baptism and 62 by letter, making the total additions 343 persons. Rev. Mr. Boyd is the popular pastor.

Real Estate.

T. G. FORD, REAL ESTATE BROKER,

Offers in exchange for property in Newport, the well known Loper estate in Stonington, Ct., at a great bargain—also a new and well situated house in Baltimore at $10,000—two new houses in New York at $11,000 and 12,000, and two fine houses on Madison and Fifth avenues in New York at low prices.

FRANK B. PORTER,

REAL ESTATE AGENT AND BROKER,

BELLEVUE AVE.,

nov24 NEAR BAY STREET.

FOR SALE.—Lots suitable for summer residence at Goddington Point. This is one of the most desirable locations in the vicinity of Newport, and affords views of the city, harbor and bay unsurpassed. The Old Colony Railroad has a station here, so that residents from Boston, Fall River, Taunton and other cities in New England can be landed at their own doors. Very eligible lots can be had at ten cents a foot. A house located a short distance from the station, and having an unobstructed water view will be sold very low. This whole property will, in a few years be worth many times its present value. No other such opportunity for investors of capital is presented in this city. For particulars apply at the DAILY NEWS office.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience. AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

Sold by druggists throughout the world. aug17-6m

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unsolicitable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART

Boston, January 1, 1876. jan1-1yr-eo

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the new telescope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memorials of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.
